NOVEMBER 2020

The inflation rate for November 2020 was 0.6 per cent as the Consumer Price Index moved from 106.9 in the previous month to 107.6. This upward movement was mainly as a result of the 1.7 per cent increase in the heavily weighted 'Food and Non-Alcoholic Beverages' division. The prices of vegetables such as carrot, cabbage, tomato and sweet pepper continued to increase, due to lower supplies. As a result, the index for the class 'Vegetables, tubers, plantains, cooking bananas and pulses' increased by 5.7 per cent. The index for the 'Housing Water, Electricity, Gas and Other Fuels' division recorded a negligible increase. This was mainly attributable to higher rates for electricity, which resulted in the index for the group 'Electricity, Gas and Other Fuels' increasing by 3.8 per cent. The division's movement was however tempered by the decline of 2.3 per cent in the index for the group 'Rentals for Housing'.

The calendar year-to-date inflation rate was 5.0 per cent, the point-to-point 4.3 per cent and the fiscal year-to-date 3.7 per cent as at November 2020.
